Sergor Marsk is a master weapon-smith and he has a keen interest in and knowledge of magical weapons as well as the history of Impiltur. His skill and knowledge promises to be much more useful than the few gold coins he paid you for the help of his cousin.

IMPI02 Favor of Haldar

It is always good for an adventurer to have a friend with good contacts amongst all the people of New Sarshel whether demon hunter, master thief or simple sailor. The fact that his family owns a general store that specializes in serving those in the security business is an added bonus.
